Home Safety (General)
Bed Alarm		Bed alarms and sensor pads are the best method of getting an early alert that your loved one is trying to get out of bed. Place the pad under their back or buttock area (beneath the fitted sheet). The pad has a cord which runs along the side of the mattress. When your loved one starts to sit up, taking their weight off the pad, the pad sends a signal to the bed alarm monitor and the monitor will start to alarm and let you know they need assistance. By having an alarm in the room, you will not only hear the alert from an adjacent room, but your loved one may slow down and wait for you once they hear the alarm sound. Manufactured by Smart Caregiver.	Amazon.com & Information From	$76.45
Motion Sensor Alarm		Instead of sounding an alarm, the motion sensor sends a wireless signal to a pager carried by the caregiver (clipped to a belt or inside a pocket). This allows the caregiver to be notified wherever they are out and about. When positioned along the bedside the fall monitor will alarm as the resident attempts to vacate the bed.	Amazon.com & Information From	$39.72
Fall Alert Alarm		Magnetic Personal Alarm alerts caregivers when a wheelchair user may be falling. The fall prevention alarm sounds when the cord removed from the unit. This durable magnetic alarm comes with a custom stainless steel clip that attaches to a bed, wheelchair or walker.	Amazon.com & Information From	$28.00
Digital video monitor w/camera		Watching your loved one is effortless with the innovation of advanced motion tracking technology. Recommended to use in common already used rooms, living rooms, and kitchen. The camera automatically follows your loved ones movement when detected in the range of view, or direction and zoom can be controlled with the high quality 3.5" LCD monitor that doubles as a remote. The monitor can toggle video and has a 3-4hr battery life. The kickstand / belt-clip provides convenience no matter where you are or what you're doing around the house, and you can monitor up to 500 feet away from the yard or the other floors of your home.	Amazon.com & Information From	$139.99
