Learn the basics of how to watch movies and TV shows through streaming. This class is designed for technology users who are comfortable using the internet, smartphones, and computers and are ready to make the switch from cable to streaming. You'll learn what streaming services are, how they work, how to find movies and shows, how to play and pause movies or episodes, and how to save movies or episodes for later. You'll also learn about the types of streaming services you can choose from so you can pick the right one for you. Moderate tech experience expected.
